Daniels Called By Grand Jurors

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Joseph Daniels, secretary of the navy in the Wilson administration, was called as the first witness today before the District of Columbia grand jury considering criminal charges growing out of the senate oil inquiry.

It was at Mr. Daniels' request that congress enacted the law of June 4, 1920, which the jury contemplated placing the oil reserves within the sole jurisdiction of the navy secretary and which it is argued made invalid the executive order under which that control passed to the interior department in May, 1921.

The 1920 act has been a subject of much controversy since the oil scandal developed, friends of former Secretary Daniels contending that under its provisions the executive department could lease all of the naval oil lands.

The view has been disputed, particularly by Senator Walsh, Democrat, chairman of the senate committee, who has contended that the clear intent of congress was simply the drilling of oil wells to preserve the fuel supply in the ground as far as possible.

E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of the interior, and Dr. H. Foster Blaine, director of the bureau of mines, who have appeared several times before the committee, reached the court house a few minutes after Mr. Daniels arrived and waited in an ante-room. They were to have appeared before the senate oil committee today but were excused temporarily, in order that they might precede the grand jury.

RIGHT OFF THE WIRES FROM CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, O., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Charles Green, 34, was reported to be dying at the General Hospital here today as the result of injuries received late last night, when the automobile which he was driving collided with a street car. Miss Amelia Numeister, 24, a waitress, was almost instantly killed, and Alvin E. Howell, 27, and Walter Denison, two other members of the automobile party, were seriously injured.

CINCINNATI, O., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The city of Cincinnati through its safety director and not the board of directors of the University of Cincinnati, has jurisdiction over the municipal hospital, the state supreme court ruled today in refusing a writ of mandamus to the university trustees to compel the safety director to see aside a ward in the hospital for surgical research.

CINCINNATI, O., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Exceedingly tight voting marked the early hours of the presidential preference primary election here today.

It is estimated that about 20,000 Republicans and about 8,000 Democrats would be cast. A bond issue to provide funds to build a Central Park way, is also being voted on.

CINCINNATI, O., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—M. S. Daugherty, Washington Court House, Ohio, banker, and a brother of H. M. Daugherty, former United States attorney general, is to appear in the United States district court here on May 10, when a final hearing will be held on the writ of habeas corpus granted by Judge Hickenlooper late yesterday.

CINCINNATI, O., April 29.—(By the United Press.)—Word was received here today from Rome, Italy, of the death of P. L. Stettinius, Cincinnati lawyer. He died at 4:00 p. m. today of peritonitis, which set in following an operation for appendicitis last Wednesday.

CINCINNATI, O., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The police of Hamilton, Ohio, have been called into the search for Anna Rosenzweig, 12, who disappeared from her home here Sunday. She and Mary Burckett, 14, are reported to have boarded a bus for that city. The girl's father went to Hamilton last night but failed to find any trace of her.

NO HOPE HELD OUT FOR THE OTHER 66 TRAPPED MEN

WHEELING, W. VA., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Rescue workers toiling in the ill-fated Benwood mine, wrecked by an explosion yesterday, had located 45 bodies up to noon today. Three of the bodies were brought out.

Near the north entry of Section No. 8, north entry of Section No. 5, the rescuers located 29 bodies. They then pressed forward toward the north entry No. 8, where it was believed 55 men were to work yesterday, a few minutes before the blast. Gas fumes were pouring into Section 8, making it dangerous for rescuers. By noon three bodies were brought up.

State troopers co-operated with deputy sheriffs in holding back the throng of men, women and children who awaited word of loved ones. As each rescue worker came out he was besieged by waiting women.

Ohio Voters Showing Little Interest In Primary

COLUMBUS, O., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Ohio voters were going to the polls today to select delegates to the national convention of the two major political parties and to register their preference for candidates to be named by the conventions. Little interest was being taken in the election of delegates, however, and it is estimated that not more than 500,000 to vote.

Final statements of leaders of the Coolidge, Johnson, McAdoo and Cox campaigns predicted victory for their respective candidates.

Most interesting feature of today's election is the contest of former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, a Coolidge candidate for delegate-at-large.

Efforts of Johnson supporters have centered largely on attacks of the former attorney general since his retirement from the cabinet. Daugherty was defeated in 1920 as a Harding delegate. The Republicans will choose 51 delegates and the Democrats, 52. Seven Republican delegates-at-large and eight Democrats are to be selected. The remainder of both tickets will be chosen from congressional districts.

The only campaign that has been waged by Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, who stumped the state, the Coolidge, Cox and McAdoo forces standing on the past record of their candidates.

Both President Coolidge and Mr. Cox had support of state organization forces. Definite results of the vote are expected before midnight.

Girl Plunges Hat Pin Into Boy "Because He Tormented Her"

MAHA, NER., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Jabbing at neighborhood girls with a pin-tipped stick, cost the life of Robert Effenberg, 14, last night, when Allen Ralph, 13, plunged a hat pin into his chest, puncturing a blood vessel. The lad died in ten minutes.

"Every night the boys in the neighborhood have been sticking the girls with pin on sticks," Allen told police. "I got a hat pin and told the other girls that if they came near me any more, I was going to stick them good."

Juvenile authorities are holding the girl.

STONE TO AID FIGHT TO CONVICT M. S. DAUGHERTY

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Attorney General Stone has agreed to have the department of justice aid the senate Daugherty investigating committee in litigation arising from the attempt to punish M. S. Daugherty, brother of the former attorney general for his refusal to testify.

The arrangement is understood to have been effected after several conferences between committee members and officials of the justice department. Soon after he took office Mr. Stone indicated that he was willing to co-operate in every practical way toward disclosure of the full facts as to the questions under investigation.

Mr. S. Daugherty, who ignored two committee subpoenas and also failed to produce the records of his Affidavit National Bank at Washington Court House was arrested yesterday in Cincinnati on a warrant issued under a habeas resolution citing him for contempt. He secured his freedom on a habeas corpus writ and is to appear in the federal court at Cincinnati on May 10.

A department of justice attorney may be present at that hearing to look after the interest of the committee and of the state, but details are yet to be worked out.

INDIANA GOVERNOR CONVICTED; RESIGNS POST AS EXECUTIVE

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Warren T. McCray, convicted yesterday in federal court of using the mails to defraud, today resigned as governor of Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—That Governor Warren T. McCray, found guilty of using the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud in federal court yesterday would resign during the day, was the general belief here today, although Republican state leaders, the governor's attorneys and the governor himself steadfastly declined to make statements of any kind.

The governor spent last night in the Marion county jail and was to remain in confinement there until nine o'clock Wednesday morning when he was to appear before Federal Judge A. B. Anderson to be sentenced.

Republican leaders gathered here today to discuss the situation.

The attitude of the leaders at the present time, however, is that no immediate action will be taken, the belief apparently prevailing that McCray will resign.

It appeared unlikely early today that Governor McCray would ask for an appeal. M. A. Ryan, one of Governor McCray's attorneys gave the only definite hint that McCray would not appeal when he said yesterday that (Continued on Page Three)

UNION MEETING IN CHICAGO ENDS IN FATAL GUN BATTLE

CHICAGO, April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two men are dead and seven others slightly wounded as a result of a mysterious shooting at a labor union hall last night, believed by authorities to have been caused by a factional controversy. Samuel S. Hills, a business agent for the Ice Cream Wagon Drivers' Union, was killed, and Robert Devere was fatally wounded.

The scene of the shooting was the hall of the Electrical Workers' Union, Number 134, of which "Umbrella Mike" Bosley is the head.

A few hours previously, Hills had ordered a strike of his union to take effect Thursday. George Diorider, 72, shot through the mouth, told the police the shooting began while six electrical workers were appearing before the board of their union to explain infractions of regulations. Authorities could not determine who connected Hills had with the meeting, nor could they account for his slaying.

Administration Convinced That Rates Proposed By Secretary Mellon Cannot Be Adopted

WASHINGTON, April 29.—As the climax of the tax revision fight approaches in the Senate, the administration has become convinced at last that the rates proposed by Secretary Mellon cannot be adopted.

Instead the President will have to be content with a compromise between extremes. And he will be compelled to sign the bill presented to him for approval if there is no chance of modification even if he should veto the measure. Sentiment in Congress has crystallized. It is fixed. No amount of pressure from the administration can alter a situation in which a combination of Democrats and insurgent Republicans hold the real power.

The Senate is about to vote on a series of amendments. Senator Smoot, chairman of the Finance committee, is starting exactly the way Representative Longworth, Republican leader, did in the House. He is endeavoring to get a record vote on the Mellon rates and will be content to get through that kind of a bill which represents the mean between two extremes. The Democrats and insurgent Republicans have co- (Continued on Page Three)

Cardinal Hayes Gets Rousing Welcome

NEW YORK, April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Patrick Cardinal Hayes has returned to his people dressed in the flowing red robes of the Roman Catholic Church, wearing the red hat and the heavy gold buckled shoes of his office, he arrived yesterday from Rome.

Over heavy carpets of cardinal red, he was escorted from the Levantine amid the cheers of thousands and the whistles of harbor craft. To the Battery wharves he was welcomed by officials of the church and the city. Up Broadway and Fifth Avenue he was driven to St. Patrick's Cathedral at the head of a procession of automobiles covered with the gold and white papal colors.

He will celebrate his first public mass tomorrow.

President Denies Charge He Said "He Was Trying To Deliver Shoals to Ford"

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Denying his recommendation to congress in his message December 6, President Coolidge has flatly denied the assertion that he was "trying" to "deliver Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford," containing in telegram placed in the record of the senate agriculture committee's hearing on the Ford and other bids for the properties. The telegram dated October 12, 1923, and addressed to "William J. Cameron or Ernest Liebold, care Dearborn Independent, Dearborn, Michigan," by James Martin Miller, former Washington newspaper correspondent, was read by Chairman Norris after he had asked Secretary Weeks about a call made by Mr. Ford at the White House December 3, which was followed by his endorsement of Mr. Coolidge.

The president, pointing out that his message had been placed in the hands of the newspapers five days prior to Mr. Ford's call, not only reiterated his stand with reference to the properties and denied the purported quotations in the Miller telegram but expressed the belief that the manufacturer's "favor

Primary In Massachusetts

BOSTON, April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—A light vote is anticipated in the Massachusetts presidential primaries today with no opposition to the Republican slate of seven delegates-at-large pledged to President Coolidge and only one individual seeking a place on the Democratic delegation-at-large at the expense of one of the eight candidates in the official group.

The only Republican contest for the 22 district delegates, involving opposition to Coolidge is in the first district, where Dwight B. MacCormack of Westfield, expressing a preference for Hiram W. Johnson, is seeking nomination in opposition to a Coolidge candidate.

DEMOCRATS RECONSTRUCT SMITH'S BOOM FOR PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The reconstruction of Governor Smith's boom for the Democratic nomination for president, which was somewhat disturbed by the death of Charles F. Murphy, Tammany leader, has begun with the announcement that neither Norman E. Mack, Democratic National Committeeman from New York, nor George F. Brennan, Illinois Democratic leader, would head the movement. This was determined at a conference between Governor Smith and his closest political friends which lasted until early today.

Mr. Mack, who acted as spokesman, said the man to head the Smith forces in place of Mr. Murphy had not been selected and that it was possible a choice might be made at a continuance of the conference today.

"Governor Smith has no contest for delegates in any state," Mr. Mack said. "He has made no enemies. Many of his friends believe this is the best way for him to conduct his campaign. I should say it is improbable that a Smith campaigning committee will be formed."

"DRECO" Brings Remarkable Results To Mr. P. T. Thatcher.

MR. P. T. THATCHER
"Dreco has certainly done a whole lot for me," declares Mr. P. T. Thatcher, the well-known 60-year-old carpenter of R. R. No. 2, Dayton, Ohio. "I was in a terrible weak and rundown condition, lost weight and suffered from almost every imaginable ailment."
"I was constipated all the time. Indigestion, gas and bilious attacks almost drove me wild at times and rheumatism and pains in my back and limbs crippled me so I could just about get around. Dizzy spells came upon me and I'd have to hold onto something to keep from falling. Was nervous and had to force myself to eat, for I knew how I'd suffer afterward."

"Even the first bottle of Dreco seemed to help me and now after taking four in all I'm like a new man. I eat like a kid again and am stronger than I have been for a long time. My stomach is in fine shape and my nerves have been quieted. I weigh 10 lbs. more than when I first started to take this grand remedy."

Dreco is made from the pure, unadulterated juices of 12 different roots, barks, leaves and herbs. Nature herself wrote the formula and years of experience have proven it's a wonderful one. Hundreds of citizens right here in this town can testify to the quick and soothing influence it has on sick and weakened systems.

Dreco acts on the liver in a smooth, gentle manner, gradually working off the excess bile day by day. It is neither strong nor harsh and does not excite the muscles of the bowels as strong cathartics do. It tones up the digestive organs and relieves gas on the stomach, puts an end to constipation, increases the appetite, gives strength to weak kidneys, restores the nerves and produces sound sleep. Dreco is a great blood purifier and system cleanser.
"All today at Stewart's Cut-Rate Drug Store and ask to talk with Mr. O'Connor, the expert from the Dreco Laboratories. He will courteously tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy. Also he will honestly tell you whether or not he thinks Dreco will benefit you."

met Martinville, they say.

The trial moved speedily to a close this afternoon Governor McGraw, the only witness for the defense, left the witness stand at 3 p. m. The government used one witness, J. J. Kiser, Indianapolis banker, in rebuttal. "The final arguments occupied less than three hours, ending a few minutes after 6; Judge Anderson's instructions to the jury were brief and the case was given to the jury at 6:20 p. m. Fifteen minutes later the verdict was read in court."

Scored by Court

In denying bail to the governor and ordering him taken to jail, Judge Anderson declared he "had never seen so many felonies committed by one individual."

"Here is a man," continued Judge Anderson, "who devised a scheme to defraud and carried it out on almost a daily basis. He has written 2,500 letters and if so, he is guilty of violating the statutes 2,500 times. He is guilty of forging hundreds of fraudulent notes. He is guilty of obtaining money under false pretenses. He has violated not only the written laws, but the laws of his own conscience as well. I think I shall have to order him to jail."

When Thomas Hamilton, superintendent of the Gary Street Railway company, foreman of the jury, reported the verdict Judge Anderson said:
Ordered to Jail
Governor McGraw, after eating dinner in a dining room room accompanied by Marshal McGraw, returned to the marshal's office, where, surrounded by a number of friends he remained until a late hour. He gave no indication of what his next move would be.

while he was not sure he "guessed" that no appeal would be taken.
The jury convicting McGraw was out only ten minutes.

The penalty provided by statute may be a fine of not to exceed $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years or both, within the discretion of the court.

Approximately 150 witnesses were called by the government. They identified a mass of correspondence with the governor regarding notes, "Cattle papers" and financial statements sent the banks through the mails.

Attorneys for the governor based their defense on lack of intent to defraud. Governor McGraw, testifying in his own behalf admitted signing the names of others to notes, but contended their signature as indorsees established his responsibility and he believed himself able financially to meet all of his obligations. He disclaimed any intention of attempting to defraud bankers to whom he sold notes.

Other Indictments Pending
An indictment against McGraw charging violation of the national banking laws and conspiracy to violate the national banking laws is still pending in federal court.
Besides the federal indictments, McGraw was named in 15 true bills returned by the Marion county grand jury. The governor's trial on the first of these resulted recently in a disagreement of the jury.

Expected to Resign
"I am sorry," repeated time and again was the only comment of the governor as he left the court room accompanied by a United States marshal.

Unless McGraw tenders his resignation as governor of Indiana, he will continue in office until impeachment proceedings are brought against him in the general assembly of Indiana. Early in the governor's financial difficulties when efforts were being made by party leaders to have him resign he stated he would get out if the charges made against him were proven.

Some local attorneys are of the opinion that McGraw while in jail ceases to be governor. The office of governor thus devolves on Lieut. Governor En-so many more voters in the latter group. Fear that reductions granted the wealthy would be the subject of criticism on the stump, has prevailed in Congress. Mr. Mellon's own position has been vulnerable from while it analyzed to the last detail it would be found that he is not affected very much by any bill passed, the impression has been spread by his opponents that he would profit personally as would others of large incomes with whom he has been affiliated.

The discussion of the bonus has had a deterring effect, too. The belief that the bonus would cost a good deal more than has been estimated is a controlling influence. Congress is in a spending mood rather than a saving mood. Mr. Coolidge in his New York speech, pointed to the number of measures seriously pressed which if approved would require just double the entire income of the United States government. Public pressure is in many cases responsible for the desire to appropriate for specific objects beneficial to certain constituencies. Perhaps when the Presidential campaign is over and a new congress has been elected, there will be a renewed demand for tax reduction. The President will certainly not express himself as satisfied with the bill given him and he will sign it with what may be termed left-handed approval. He will be in a position to carry on the fight for further tax revision and it would not be surprising if in the campaign itself the cry of lower taxes will be heard as an issue. On what the Senate does this week and the conference committee thereafter in handling the tax bill many of the arguments of the next campaign be based.

That New Charm

That free test will reveal it

New beauty and new charm have come to millions in this way. The whiter, prettier teeth you see show what this method does.

This is to bring you like delights by offering a ten-day test.

That dingy film

This method fights the film on teeth—that viscous film you feel. Teeth are not pretty, clean or safe when coated with a film.

That clinging film becomes discolored, then forms dingy coats. That is why teeth lose luster.

Film holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief causes of pyorrhea.

Such troubles came to nearly all under old ways of tooth brushing.

There are now two ways to fight that film, due to modern research. One disintegrates the film by curdling. One removes it without harmful scouring.

Dental authorities, after careful tests, have given these methods their approval. A new-type tooth

Pepsodent also multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva. These are the factors which combat the mouth acids and starch deposits on the teeth. So this test will bring you new conceptions of what clean teeth mean.

Managers Make Wide Claims For Candidates

CLEVELAND, April 29.—Success at the polls in Ohio today was predicted last night in final statements by leaders of the campaigns of President Coolidge, Hiram W. Johnson and William G. McAdoo, candidates for the presidential nomination.

Col. Gurnea A. Thompson, associate manager of the Coolidge force predicted that the president would carry both Ohio and Massachusetts.

"Reports from every section of Ohio and Massachusetts indicate that President Coolidge will receive a tremendous vote of confidence in Ohio as well as in his home state," Col. Thompson said, "and so delegates will be added to the Coolidge combination, 51 from the buckeye state and 39 from the Bay State."

The statement of State Senator George H. Bender, Ohio manager for Hiram W. Johnson follows:

"I believe the Republicans of Ohio are aroused today as they never have been before. They recognize the necessity of their participation in the primary. They realize it is important for them to elect a man from within, and they are going to register for this sentiment by voting for Senator Johnson for president."

W. D. Wilkins, Cleveland, chairman of the Ohio McAdoo for president committee said:

"Reports from a thorough survey of the situation in Ohio indicates the election of 26 delegates favorable to

Donahay Using Office As Scandal Laundry, Senator Burke Asserts

COLUMBUS, April 29.—State Senator J. F. Burke, of Ellettsville, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, declared in an address here last night that "reports had reached him that four of the so-called state houses were going to unite on a candidate for governor whom they believed they could find the people in supporting."

He said this would permit the machine to dictate political appointments.

Mr. Burke declared the Ohio senate "was organized by a man who was not elected to the senate" and that "bad legislation was advanced and good legislation throttled."

Senator Burke referring to the Columbus hearing declared "the governor has turned his office into a 'square's court' and has been 'using his office as a laundry for all the scandal and crime of the underworld.'"

Law Enforcement and

Birth Control Talked

At Women's Meeting

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 29.—Law enforcement and birth control furnished the liveliest debates of the session at today's meeting of the National League of Women Voters in convention here.

Birth control, as a study for the national league, was banned by an overwhelming vote. The law enforcement committee was rejected on the floor of the convention by the Pennsylvania delegates, which forced the presentation of a compromise resolution to be voted on tomorrow.

Rising in objection to the committee resolution which provided that the National League urge all state and national leagues to bring about respect for law by cooperation and which made no specific reference to the 18th Amendment, the Pennsylvania representative from the floor a counter resolution declared that laxity in the enforcement of the 18th Amendment is "not only encouraging open violation of this amendment but is leading to contempt for all law and spreading crime, disease and death throughout the land."

Father Shoots Man Defending His Daughter

TOLEDO, O., April 29.—Tim Anglin is in a hospital here with two bullets in his body, probably mortally wounded and Henry McAllison is a police prisoner pending the outcome of Anglin's injuries. The shooting match, police say, is the outcome of an attack by Anglin on McAllison's daughter, Bessie, 21, Anglin's bride-to-be.

Police learned that Anglin struck Miss McAllison this evening when he called at her home. Her father ordered him from the house it is said, and in the scuffle which followed Anglin was shot.

Miss McAllison and Anglin have been "keeping company," the girl said, for nine years.

Wider Music Training For Children Urged By Federated Clubs

TOLEDO, April 29.—More extensive knowledge of music for children was the keynote of the sessions of the sixth annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Music Clubs which opened today at the Toledo Museum of Art.

After talks by Blakemore Godwin, director of the museum, and Miss Elizabeth Jane Merrill, educational director, concerning the work which has been done at the local institution along the lines of musical education for children, Mrs. Edgar Silliman Kelly of Oxford, president of the federation, pledged the support of the organization to the movement.

"Inspired by the example of the Toledo Museum we hope to enter into a campaign to make free to all, adult and children alike, in all cities," she said.

HEAD COLDS ROUTED IN 5 HOURS BY SPECIALIST'S PRESCRIPTION

New Treatment Guaranteed to Banish Every Symptom In 5 Hours—Or No Cost

No matter how severe or how long standing the average Head Cold can be banished in 5 hours—through a remarkable new treatment perfected by a Cleveland specialist.

Nose and eyes clear up as though by magic. Chills and that depressed, useless feeling disappear. Within 5 hours—often in 30 minutes—you are once more as happy, healthy and full of "pep" as though you had never had the cold.

So successful has the new treatment proved in thousands of test cases that it is now positively guaranteed to banish the worst Head Cold in 5 hours—or it costs you nothing.

It is known as Dr. Platt's Rinex Prescription and is the only treatment in the clinical study of Hay Fever, Asthma and other respiratory diseases at the Clinical Laboratories, Cleveland, Ohio. This study confirmed the recent discovery that Head Colds are not simply a local surface disease, but are due to an actual poisoning of the entire system. This poisoning is caused by some sort of congestive slowing up of the normal body processes.

Ordinary cold remedies—mere headache or fever medicines or simple surface treatments—never touched this systemic poisoning. But Rinex, taken in simple capsule form and quickly absorbed into the blood through the digestive tract, goes direct to these poisons and neutralizes them. The result is complete and beauteous relief in 5 hours or less!

Ridiculous, then, to submit to days and even weeks of misery, uselessness and actual danger of more serious trouble. Get a package of Rinex today and simply try it. Cost a little more than ordinary remedies, but more economical in the end because one dose often does the work. And remember, your money back instantly if not relieved in 5 hours.

Free Trial Offer

Just now, through a special introductory arrangement, you can obtain a trial treatment entirely FREE. Simply go to any of the drug stores named below and ask for a trial package of RINEX. No obligation at all on your part. But be sure to ask for your free treatment within the next three days—this offer is limited. It may be obtained in this city at Stewart's Cut Rate Drug Store.

Capital, Surplus And Profits Over $1,000,000.00

In Municipal court yesterday, Judge Sprague handed out these penalties: Albert Riggs, Eugene Mowery, Tom Juniper and James Allen $10 and costs each for intoxication; Luther Vance drew $25 and costs for drunkenness and John Holt, arrested for intoxication, was let off with $5 and costs, the fine being later suspended on his promise to cut John Harteycorn off his list of friends. Noah Holt was assessed $5 and costs for disorderly conduct.

Clyde Hunter pleaded guilty to speeding in Municipal court Monday and Judge Sprague penalized him $10 and costs and Lester Davis, 15, charged with reckless driving, was sent to juvenile court by reason of his age. Davis was ordered not to drive an automobile again until he is 16 years old as the law prohibits persons under that age to drive.

When Charles Justice appeared in Municipal court yesterday to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt, he admitted having disregarded the order of the court on a couple of occasions, in respect to suspending his right to drive his automobile, and after hearing his story, Judge Sprague continued the matter for further investigation until Wednesday.

Justice told the court that he had driven the automobile a couple of times on Eleventh street, and piloted the car out of the garage for his wife a few times since the order was made. He denied driving the machine at other times claimed by the police.

Clay Mitchell, steelworker, pleaded not guilty to assault and battery upon his wife, Lizzie Mitchell, 514 Eleventh street, when he appeared in Municipal court yesterday but the evidence was against him and Judge Sprague imposed a penalty of $25 and costs and sent him to jail for two days.

The hearing disclosed that the couple have been separated for some time and last Saturday became involved in an altercation over the ownership of a Chevrolet touring car which was bought when they were living together in Newport, Ky.

Mrs. Mitchell said that the defendant injured her arm and shoulder in restraining her by force from taking the machine when she found it parked on the street.

HIS BROTHER'S WIFE

by RUDY AYRES

6 NIA SERVICE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The marriage of Dolly and Nigel Bretherton proves an unhappy one. When war is declared, Nigel is glad to enlist. He leaves Dolly in the care of Mary Farnham. Nigel is killed and Dolly marries an old sweetheart, Robert Durham. Dolly and Robert sail for America, leaving Mary in Dolly's flat.

When Nigel's brother, David, calls to see Nigel's widow, Mary is ashamed to tell him of Dolly's marriage. David mistakes Mary for his brother's wife and asks her to come to live at Red Grange with him and his aunt.

News comes to Mary of the sinking of the boat on which Dolly and her husband left England. A young man who sees Mary's distress offers to go for news of the ship's passengers.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

She told him sobbingly: "Mrs. Nigel Bretherton," then, remembering, hastily corrected herself. "I mean, Mrs. Robert Durham. Oh, she cannot, cannot be drowned."

"First reports are nearly always exaggerated," he said quickly, with kind hopefulness. "And the Mulanne was not a very big steamer. She carried only a few passengers, I know. My brother came home from the Argentine on her last month. They may all be saved. You must hope for the best."

"Your mistress is wet through," he said, "see that she changes her clothes, and give her something hot to drink."

Mary had already gone on into the flat. She felt as if this last blow was more than she could bear; it seemed to crush her to the ground.

She was sitting in dumb misery in the cosy sitting-room when the small maid came in hurriedly with a steaming cup of cocoa.

"The gentleman said you were to drink this, miss, and that he'd be back as soon as he could. And your cocoa so wet?"

"I don't suppose it's any of it true," she murmured stoutly. "You can't believe a word of what them papers say."

Mary had to smile in spite of her wretchedness.

"It's only too true," she said. "Something tells me it's only too true."

CHAPTER XVII

No Hope

It seemed an eternity till a ring at the bell broke the silence. Mary herself went to open the door. One glance at the face of the man who stood there in the wet night told her that there was but little to hope for. She gave a little gasp, and leaned against the door with a feeling of sick giddiness.

"It's—it's true?" she asked faintly. He answered reluctantly that he was afraid so. Of course, as yet details were not complete, but it was known that many of the passengers were drowned.

He would not come in when Mary asked him in, but he said he would be sure to let her know if he heard anything further that night.

"It is so kind of you," she told him. "I have no one else to help me. Will you—May I know your name?" He colored horribly.

"Evans—Henry Evans." He hesitated. "And may I know yours?" he asked diffidently.

Mary—Mary Farnham.

She shook hands with him when he left, she stood at the door of the flat looking after him till he had disappeared down the long flight of stone steps.

Then she went back to the room, and covered, shivering, over the fire. Nigel dead! Dolly dead!

Mary found herself wondering if, somewhere on the other side of the mystery we call death, husband and wife had met.

Such a few days had measured their separation, after all, and yet they had never loved each other.

She rose stiffly when the fire had quite died out, and crept to bed. Directly she woke in the morning she thought of the papers. Surely the truth would be known now!

The little maid brought them to her. Mary opened them with shaking fingers.

But only last night's news, with a few details, was printed.

But as the day dragged away further details crept out. A brief list of passengers and crew was published at the offices of the shipping company, where Mary, waiting wearily, hour after hour, watched the slowly added names with jagged eyes.

Somewhat, all her anger and bitterness against Nigel's wife was vanishing, wiped out by the merciless hand of Death.

And then she saw her name, and that of the man she had married, go up at the end of that short, incomplete list. "Durham (or Dumbham), Mr. and Mrs. Robert—drowned."

She never knew how she got out of the office. She felt as if she were walking in space.

For a moment Mary's heart was dead and incapable of further suffering. She felt as if she had reached the end of her tether of endurance, and nothing mattered any more.

There were letters waiting for her when she got back to the flat, but she let them lie on the table unopened. She had forgotten David Bretherton and her own miserable life in the horror of this fresh tragedy.

It was only hours after their arrival that Mary opened those letters. One was a brief acknowledgment from the owner of the flat in reply to her own intimation that she wished to leave; and the other—Mary turned it over dully. She did not know the writing; but the postmark—

Her heart beat a little faster as she saw that. She broke open the flap.

The paper was expensive, and embossed with a heading—"The Red Grange."

"My dear child" (it began),—"David tells me that he has asked you to come here and live with us, so I am just writing to assure you of my very hearty welcome, both for your own sake and dear Nigel's. We will both do our very best to make you happy, and try and help you forget your sorrow."

"Come as soon as ever you like. I am having Nigel's room prepared for you. I thought you would like to have it."

"Perhaps you have not heard of me, but from what David has told me of you, I am sure we shall grow to love each other, and such is my sincerest wish."

"Believe me, my dear child, Yours affectionately, "Nigel's Aunt Florence."

Aunt Florence! Nigel had spoken of her so often. He had loved her dearly. How good of her to write to her. So they really wanted her! There was something in the simple warmth of the letter that felt like kindly hands outstretched to grasp her kindly. Nigel's room! How dear of them to think of that!

But, of course, it could never be. Now she would have to finish that letter to David which she had begun only yesterday, and tell them the truth.

She folded the letter from the Red Grange and thrust it out of her sight into a blotter. She resolutely walked from the room, determined to forget it.

But the insidious voice of temptation walked with her, whispering, always whispering: "Why not? Why not?"

CHAPTER XVIII

An Experiment

Montague Fisher and David Bretherton had been friends ever since their school days, when Fisher had "fagged" for Bretherton, and adored him as a younger boy will sometimes look up to, and make a hero of an elder who is more brilliant and popular than himself.

When Bretherton came into the inheritance and rent-roll of Red Grange, one of the first things he did was to look up his old friend—then a young lawyer but beginning to feel his way—and hand over his affairs for Fisher to deal with.

It was through him that Nigel's generous allowance had been paid while David was abroad, through him that the estates had been administered during their owner's absence.

But the old friendship between the two men still existed in spite of their business relations, and Fisher had been genuinely delighted to see David again.

John Gullman is in a hospital suffering from fractured ankles, lacerations and numerous bruises.

The men, all related by marriage recently had contracted to clean and re-name the exterior of the May and Company store. They had just commenced work this morning when the accident occurred.

THIS WOMAN'S MARVELLOUS RECOVERY

All Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Truman, Minn.—"I was badly run-down and had pains in my side and back; sometimes I couldn't hardly move around in bed. My husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking it I was so much better I could do my own work again. I do my housework, and I have a garden, raise chickens, and in harvest time I worked in the field and helped pick corn. Sometimes I do chores and milk. I took the Vegetable Compound before and after my four-month-old baby was born, and it has always helped me wonder-fully. I believe there is no better medicine made for women, and I hope every woman will give it a fair trial."

—Mrs. AUGUST R. WIDENHOFF, K. No. 2, Box 84, Truman, Minnesota.

Polishes Motor Oil

Polishes Motor Oil are essential to give a correct lubricant for every part of the engine. The only true test of motor oil quality is the one required by the U. S. Government: to boil, boiling point rises and evaporates. Hence our emphasis on the complete chain of boiling points which Red Crown gasoline has.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly: What do you think of a wife with a good husband and a nice little girl, who got so mad and riled up that she grabbed him and his clothes, threw them out in the street and told him to beat it. I think she has another man on the string and wants to get rid of him.

TIMES READER.
Maybe he deserves to be thrown out. If not, he must be a weak-kneed molly-coddler or he would not let a woman take him by the back of the neck and throw him into the street. If he was much of a man he would be master of his own household.

Dear Dolly: Is it not contrary to the laws of the state of Ohio, to allow houses of prostitution to be run in this and every other city in the land? Dolly, please let me know what steps to take to break up these places.

DISGUSTED TAX PAYER.
If you will furnish a list of the houses to the Prosecuting Attorney, I think he will get busy and see what can be done about it. You might also notify the chief of police, the mayor and all the other officials. Keep right after them until they rid your city of these places.

Dear Dolly: My skin is dark and my hair and eyes are brown and I want you to tell me what colors would be becoming to me.

MRS. N. Y. Z.
You should be able to wear most any color, avoiding rather pale shades. Bright colors would bring out a good tone in your skin.

Dear Dolly: I have heard that carotene marmalade was so good for children that I would like to make some, if you will be kind enough to print a recipe in your valuable column.

HECLA READER.
Steam three pounds of carrots until tender. Add four pounds of sugar, the grated rind and juice of six lemons, 30 cents worth of shelled almonds. Put nuts through meat grinder or chop very fine. Cook from twenty to thirty minutes or until the desired thickness. This tastes very much like orange preserves but is much less expensive.

Dear Dolly: What do you think should be done with "road hogs" and speeders? It seems that despite all that has been said and done, they are just as careless and reckless as ever. Men get out on the public highways during the busiest time of the afternoon and evening and cut loose. They don't seem to care for their own lives or the lives of others. Why do people who are careful drivers have to be bothered with careless drivers? Can't something be done to keep these people off the principal streets and public highways? SAFETY FIRST.

If I had any say so I would soon fix them. I would take their license away or their right to run a car for thirty or sixty days. If at the end of that time they continued on their reckless way, I would make it six months or a year for the second offense. If caught, driving a car they would be sent to jail. They have been warned time and again, and many of them have been fined, but that does not have the desired effect. They need something to make them sit up and take notice.

Dear Dolly: We have a nice mahogany dining table that has several white spots on it, presumably from hot dishes and I would like for you to tell me how to get them off.

WORRIED READER.
To remove white spots made by heat or water from varnished surfaces one method is to apply oil or salt. Leave for half an hour, then wipe dry with a soft cloth. Another way is to wring a cloth out of boiling water. Place on the spot for an instant; remove and rub till dry with a soft dry cloth. Still another way is to use alcohol or camphor. Apply this quickly and then rub off. Still another way is to rub surface with an ordinary dry cork. Sweet oil is also recommended.

Black and Brown Eyes: I don't print letters like the one you sent me in this department but if you will call on I shall be glad to tell you what you want to know.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Office Roberts Barton

THE POOR COBBLER

They jumped up on the work bench and began to sew.

The next place Mister Muggs took the Twins in Once-Upon-a-Time Land was to see the Poor Cobbler. Although indeed he was not poor now, he was very, very rich and needed to cobble no longer for a living.

However, riches had not spoiled him, and he was out in the yard under a tree smoking his old pipe and blowing great puffs of smoke into the air.

"We came to see you and your good wife," called Mister Muggs when he had parked the little car outside the gate. "May we come in?"

"Of course, of course!" said the kindly cobbler. "Come right in and I'll call Sally and we can have a party. I think she has just made some fresh cookies, and the Jersey cow gives rich milk."

After Nancy had had six cookies and Nick eight, the cobbler told his story. "We are very, very poor," he said. "Somehow or other everything had gone wrong. Sometimes I was sick, and sometimes both of us together. One day the teapot on the mantelpiece got less and less and less and finally disappeared completely."

"Well, at last there was only enough leather left for one pair of shoes. Late one night I cut them out, and then went to bed so I could get up early in the morning and finish the work."

"The next morning when I went into my shop, there lay the shoes on my bench all finished to the last stitch, and sewed so neatly that I got twice the price for them I usually

GIRLS! THROW AWAY YOUR FAT! LOOK YOUR BEST THIS SUMMER

Start Today, Take Off From 10 to 50 Pounds, As I Did—Simple, Easy, Harmless Way—HERE IT IS—

If you are ashamed of your figure, especially in a bathing suit, decide to take off that extra fat and look your best on the beach this summer. You can do it. I did. I am glad to be able to explain to you how to do about it. I am not going to tell you to go through strenuous exercises or weakening diets. I will not recommend you to rub your body with chloroform or wear reducing girdles or garments, as I have tried every A. B. C. of the "WORTHLESS," I am giving you here the secret I found out in Paris and which is the most marvelous discovery ever made to assist and safely take off fat. I suffered for years with all the troubles well known to fat people—time after time I deprived myself from all pleasures—bathing, dancing, riding or getting because of my ridiculous fat figure. I turned down parties and friends to avoid the dreaded "here comes fatty" until one day after I had tried everything known to reduce and failed, I hit upon the secret WITH WHICH I MADE MYSELF OVER.

It is called SAN-GRI-NA, the discovery of a French scientist who has solved the problem of obesity. SAN-GRI-NA is put up in small, tasteless tablets. You take two before each meal and watch your weight go down. With this simple, easy, marvelous new way I reduced from 150 to 130 pounds in eight weeks, and never regained a pound. The reducing I went through was gradual and safe. I feel a steady increase in strength and vitality. Now my health is splendid and I look and feel years younger.

SAN-GRI-NA is G. Z. A. N. S. P. E. D. ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS and is sold with money-back guarantee. Nothing like SAN-GRI-NA was ever before offered to you.

NOTE—Since I have given out this wonderful secret to the American public the demand has been so tremendous that every good drug store such as Stahler's, Stewart's and others is supplied with SAN-GRI-NA. Get your package today and watch your fat disappear—advertising agent.

A. C. Needles, New President of N. & W. and Other Officials to Visit Terminals On Inspection Tour; Have Had Interesting Careers

A. C. Needles, new president of the Norfolk and Western Railway and other high officials, who recently were given merited promotions, are expected to visit Portsmouth, Wednesday or Thursday, and will spend an hour or two at the N. & W. shops in East Portsmouth.

Relative to the elevation of Mr. Needles to the presidency of the N. & W., the promotion of other officials, and the retirement of former president N. D. Maher the Norfolk World-News says:

Amid the suppressed excitement in the general offices of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company here which has followed the election of officers of the road, set one man serene and even-tempered. It was N. D. Maher, President of the road, who will retire from its service on April 30. The career of the man has been a remarkable and enviable one.

When asked if he regretted leaving the road, Mr. Maher said, "Well, I am very well satisfied. I have put in fifty-three years and have enjoyed working very much." He added it had been a pleasure working with the employees of the road.

His Great Dream

Mr. Maher, who is chairman of the Hampton Roads Port Commission, has a great dream of the development of the port. When asked what he intended doing when he retires from the Norfolk and Western he said:

"I will devote a great deal of time to studying the development of the port. I want to do something for my State. Though there was no display of emotion, one could feel the feeling that was in the man.

Continuing he said, "Of course I will not live to see the port developed, but if I can draw up a plan which can be carried out and make the port a great one, then I will have done something."

He was born April 20, 1851 at Blairsville, Pa., and received his education at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md. He entered the railway service when a youth of 17. The first road he worked with was the Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston Railway. He served this road on surveying work from 1871 to 1873. From 1873 to 1874 he was a clerk in the office of the Superintendent of Transportation of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Altoona, Pa., and from 1874 to June 1, 1883 a clerk in the office of General Superintendent of the same road.

Joined N. & W. in 1883

On June 1, 1883 Mr. Maher came with the Norfolk and Western as chief clerk and Western as roadman. He has worked in many departments of the road since that time, the operation end, however, has been the one in which he has done most work. His also has been from the bottom. Serving as a brakeman, yard clerk, and master, trainmaster, assistant superintendent and superintendent of several of the road divisions, then general manager and vice-president in charge of operation and traffic until October 15, 1915. In January, 1918 he was elected president.

He returned to the N. & W. as general superintendent and on February 1, 1901, was made general manager. In July, 1907, he was elected second vice-president and general manager. On December 1, 1912 he was elected vice-president in charge of operation. He was made first vice-president, effective October 15, 1915. In January, 1918 he was elected president.

Has Interesting Career

Arthur C. Needles, the newly elected President of the Norfolk and Western, began his railroad career forty-one years ago. His first position was roadman with the Washington, Ohio and Southern Railroad. He was born at Baltimore, January 10, 1877, and was educated in the public schools and at Swarthmore College.

His career has been a striking one. In 1893 he came with the Norfolk and Western as roadman. He has worked in many departments of the road since that time, the operation end, however, has been the one in which he has done most work. His also has been from the bottom. Serving as a brakeman, yard clerk, and master, trainmaster, assistant superintendent and superintendent of several of the road divisions, then general manager and vice-president in charge of operation and traffic until October 15, 1915. In January, 1918 he was elected president.

He returned to the N. & W. as general superintendent and on February 1, 1901, was made general manager. In July, 1907, he was elected second vice-president and general manager. ### Jenks's Record

W. J. Jenks, who was made vice-president in charge of operations, started at the bottom and has had a steady rise to the office he will take May 1. He is a native of North Carolina. He was born near Raleigh on March 21, 1870, and was educated in public and private schools. He is a man who talks straight from the shoulder and is known as one of the most affable officials of the N. & W. Mr. Jenks entered the railroad service in November, 1886, as a telegraph operator of the Seaboard Air Line. He entered the service of the Norfolk and Western in September, 1887. From 1887 to 1901 he was dispatcher, chief dispatcher and car distributor. In September, 1901, he left the N. & W. and went with the Seaboard Air Line. Up to 1904 with that road he acted as trainmaster at Savannah, Americus, Ga., and at Jacksonville, Fla. From January 21, 1904, to March, 1906, he was superintendent for the same road.

Mr. Jenks came back with the Norfolk and Western in March, 1906, and became chairman of the car adjustment commission, which position he held to May 27, 1912. On May 27, 1912, he was made Superintendent of the Pocahontas Division or the Western General Division. He acted in this capacity until January 1, 1918, when he was elected general manager.

Re-created Office

The office of Vice-president in charge of Traffic, to which B. W. Herrman was appointed was recreated at the Board meeting. The office existed up to the time the United States Government took the railroads over. When the Government relinquished control of the roads, the office was combined with that of Vice-president in charge of operation. The office of Assistant Freight Traffic Manager, which Mr. Herrman held has been abolished.

Mr. Herrman was born at Dayton, Ohio, October 10, 1866 and was educated in the public schools of that city. He first entered the employ of the Norfolk and Western Railway in 1892. Experience in 1892 when he entered the service of the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolis (now C. C. C. and St. Louis) and the Selol Valley (now N. & W.).

In 1893 he became local freight agent of the same company at Columbus and the following year entered the employ of the Cleveland, Akron and Columbus (now the Pennsylvania) in a similar capacity.

In 1910 he became general agent of the Norfolk and Western at Cincinnati and in 1912 was promoted to assistant general freight agent with headquarters at Columbus. In 1917 he was pro-

Dispute Over Property Line Leads to Row

A dispute over a line between premises on Second street, opposite the police station, precipitated a row between Miss Edith Dice and Dr. E. C. Jackson. Tuesday morning, when the latter assisted by Harry King, a front street carpenter, drove stakes preparatory to plant a hedge fence. The war is said to have started when Miss Dice pulled up several of the stakes and threatened King. It is claimed, when he refused to comply with her orders to stop the work. Wrangling over the line continued throughout most of the day and it was reported late this afternoon that Miss Dice had engaged an attorney from Ironton with the view of filing injunction proceedings to prevent setting out of the hedge plants on the 22-inch strip of ground in dispute. The argument heated back and forth for some time and created much excitement. Dr. Jackson insisted he was on his own ground while Miss Dice insisted that he was on her ground and they resorted to personalities before smoke of the battle subsided.

Site For New Huth Hotel Probably Will Be Selected At Meeting Tomorrow

At a meeting of the directors of the Huth Hotel Company Tuesday afternoon, held to take definite action on the new hotel proposition was adjourned until Wednesday for final action, on account of all members of the Board of Directors not being present.

After the short session it was announced that the majority favors the Third and Chillicothe street site, although this fact has not been definitely decided upon. The other site considered is the Turler building property, Second and Chillicothe streets.

After the one o'clock meeting several directors were busy most of the afternoon working on matters that are expected to be cleared up by tomorrow afternoon so that definite action may be taken.

WORKMAN SUFFERS CRUSHED LEG

Melvin Baller, 33, of 5300 Gallia street, Sciotoville, suffered a crush on his left leg just before the knee about nine o'clock Tuesday morning while at work for the David Joseph Company at Sciotoville. He was cutting a steel coal car with an acetylene torch when a cut of cars was "set in" on the same track, as the cars on which he was working. The cars came together so suddenly that Baller did not have time to get out of the way.

He was treated first by Dr. Martin Taylor of Sciotoville and later removed by ambulance to Humpstead hospital where Dr. Carl Brumlin is attending him. The bones were so badly crushed they will have to be wired. An x-ray was taken this afternoon to determine the seriousness of the injury.

Committee Squabbles Over Mrs. Hamon's Subpoena; She's Not Asked Single Question

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Mrs. Jake L. Hamon, widow of the Oklahoma oil man, and Republican politician, whose name has been linked with many unusual stories about political financing in 1920, had a fleeting day in court today before the senate oil committee.

She was not asked a single question and was excused after a quarter of an hour of waiting on the witness stand while the committee senators wrangled and finally completely disagreed as to who was responsible for her summons to Washington.

Called here from Chicago, Mrs. Hamon had been given an extension of time by the committee to enable her to go to Oklahoma and secure papers and letters belonging to her dead husband, which were to tell at last the inside story of his connection with the Republican party machinery and prove or shatter the dramatic story of how he spent a million dollars to nominate Harding, and in return was to have been appointed secretary of the interior. A visible stir swept over the committee room, packed with a crowd including many women, when she swept up to the witness stand and dressed in a flowing black dress and carrying in her hand a single calla lily. Another witness was testifying about geological formations in the oil reserves but he was excused soon after she appeared and the committee clerk called her to the stand.

Then began one of the interest, personal rows that has characterized the long and turbulent sessions of the oil committee.

Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, objected beforehand to the admission of her testimony and Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, the committee prosecutor replied that he bore with due humiliation "the rebuke of the Missouri senator." Mr. Walsh added, however, that all responsibility for the visit of Mrs. Hamon to Washington must rest on Senator Stanford, Republican, Oregon, who in turn retorted that Senator Walsh was not stating the facts.

He had only mentioned her name, Senator Stanford said, in suggesting how the committee might run down some of the sensational stories told it about Hamon by Al Jennings and others.

Then there was a dead silence, and the committee chairman, finding that no senator wanted to ask a question, told the witness that her further presence would not be required.

George W. Doty

Taps were sounded for another old soldier when George W. Doty was called to his reward at 2:56 o'clock this morning in the home of his nephew, Fred Walbright, of Pedro, Lawrence county. The remains will be brought to the home of another nephew, George Walbright, of 5401 Harrison street, Sciotoville, this evening. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Mrs. James Gravitt

Mrs. James Gravitt died at her home on Duck Run, West Side, shortly before ten o'clock Tuesday morning following a protracted illness. Friends will regret to hear of the demise of this good woman who has lived in the Duck Run vicinity for many years. Funeral arrangements have not been completed and will be announced Wednesday.

Hear Leonard Hinkle and Walter Barryman with the Light House Beach orchestra tonight. They have been playing on Keith big time vaudeville, with Paul Speck's leading band.

Wales Thrown from Romance

It seems that the Prince of Wales can't even stick to a romance rumor. Just as he is pictured taking the rhinoceros hurdles with the lovely 15-year-old Princess, Diana of Hanover, he jumps the traces and broke his engagement—or rather, it was given out that there never had been an engagement. However, the rumor persists that the Prince has fallen again—this time, in love.

EDWARD B. McLEAN SUBPOENAED BEFORE NEWARK, N. J., GRAND JURY

Edward B. McLean, Washington publisher, was served today with a subpoena directing him to appear tomorrow before a Newark, N. J., grand jury which is investigating transportation of flight films.

The case in which McLean is sought is that of "The United States vs. the Democracy-Carpenter flight films."

Judge K. M. Landis Subpoenaed In The Senate Daugherty Hearing

CHICAGO, April 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Fourth subpoena calling for the presence of former Federal Judge K. M. Landis, Roosevelt Andrews, former federal prohibition director, and former Judge Charles Williams before the senate committee investigating former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty were served today by U. S. Marshal Levy.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Further testimony bearing on the prohibition enforcement policies of the department of justice under Harry M. Daugherty, was heard today by the senate Daugherty committee.

James A. Finch, the department pardons attorney was questioned about the release of Phillip I. Grossman, sent to jail by Judge Landis at Chicago for one year for violating a court injunction in liquor sales. The witness agreed that Grossman never served any time.

Judge Brudage, of Chicago, sent a lawyer to the department of justice, he said, recommending executive clemency but in 1923, President Harding refused to consider it until some part of the case had been served.

He also named C. W. Middlekauff, a special assistant to the attorney general, Fred Upham, treasurer of the

Private Aerials Must Be Taken From Poles

Immediate removal of all private aerials from poles owned by the Portsmouth Home Telephone Company has been ordered by officials of the company. Issuance of such an order following the electrocution of George A. Guthrie, 25, while attempting to penetrate a maze of high tension lines preparatory to erecting a radio aerial.

Unless owners comply with the order at once, linemen will be sent out to cut down all of the apparatus found on company poles, it was announced. May 15 is the date set for the last of the aerials to be removed. Telephone linemen will cut down all aerials after that date.

Linemen point out that many of the aerials are strung over primary wires and that a heavy wind may tear them down, allowing them to come in contact with telephone wires. Thus a heavy voltage may result and cause electrocutions. The linemen also report seeing aerials strung over high tension electric wires.

Supreme Court Reverses Own Ruling On Workmen's Compensation

COLUMBUS, O., April 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The state supreme court today reversing its previous ruling held that a workman's compensation award does not vest in an estate when there are no direct heirs of the person receiving the award. The court previously had ruled that compensation awards vested in the estate of the person to whom the award had been made regardless of whether there were direct dependents or not.

An electric power company manufacturing electric power and selling it to distributing companies, in which it owns no stock, is not a public utility under Ohio laws and therefore is not required to file a schedule of service rates with the state public utilities commission, the supreme court today held in reversing an order of the commission requiring the Southern Ohio Power Company, operating near Athens, to file a rate schedule.

More than a year ago the court held that the Southern Ohio Power Company was a utility and should be made a party to an action in which rates of its distributing companies were under investigation by the commission on the ground that the producing company owned stock in the distributing companies. Later the producing company directed itself of this stock ownership and applied to the commission to be dismissed from the action; but the commission refused and ordered the company to file schedules.

Mystery Surrounds Death of Well Known Ashland Citizen

ASHLAND, Ky., April 29.—Picked up Saturday night by Ashland police on Thirteenth street road suffering with a fractured skull and in a semi-conscious condition, William Colbert, 52 years old, concrete worker of Nineteenth street, between Greenup and Front avenues, died at the Ashland General hospital Monday.

The police here, up until press on this shrouded mystery, however, a witness who could throw a light time this afternoon had not found it, believed that he was thrown from a car.

Susnell On Open Air Card for Millbrook

And still they come: Frankie Susnell has received another offer to box in Cincinnati but as the date selected is May 28th, he is unable to accept as he will be on the big open air show to be held in Millbrook Park, Decoration Day afternoon. William C. Saffin, matchmaker for the Humboldt Park arena, Cincinnati, is the latest Queen City promoter to seek Frankie's services. It is possible that Susnell will box at Humboldt Park early in June as the offer is quite attractive.

Real Orchestra at Columbia

The Royal Peacock orchestra opened a week's engagement at the Columbia last night and delighted two large and thoroughly pleased audiences.

It is one of the best balanced musical organizations that has been heard in Portsmouth in a long time. It is composed of 12 artists in their line, who play 32 different instruments.

Myron Schultz, is the director and Harry Basou is assistant director and pianist.

And as a pianist, Mr. Basou has few peers, being a real artist in his line. He is a musician of skill and technique and his orchestra is sure to please patrons of the popular Columbia. It has just completed 12 weeks' engagement on the Kieth circuit.

Desperado, 72, Freed From Prison, To Turn Evangelist

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Abe Buzzard, for years one of the most notorious desperadoes of the West, Mountain region of Pennsylvania, and who had spent a total of forty-two years behind prison bars, will be released from the Eastern State Penitentiary on Thursday, when his latest sentence of 13 years will have expired.

Buzzard is 72 years old today. He said he planned to become a prison evangelist and devote the remainder of his life to helping convicts. To this end he has studied theology and the scriptures.

He has many years left in which to undo the harm I have done," said the ex-convict.

Buzzard started his prison career when he was 13 years old. He and his three brothers headed a gang that terrorized the residents of the Welsh Mountain district by their numerous holdups and robberies. The brothers, Ike, Marc and John, also served long prison terms. Ike is now in a Lancaster county work house, while the other two are farmers in the Welsh Mountains, and are held in high respect by their neighbors.

Mr. Firpo Brings Rival Nations Closer Together

(By Charles P. Stewart, NEA Service Writer)

WASHINGTON, May 3.—You might not think of Luis Angel Firpo as an angel of enlightenment, but the Pan-American Union does.

The Pan-American Union's mission is to get the United States and Latin America acquainted with one another. Mutual advantage, commercially and otherwise, is the idea back of the purpose, but just getting the peoples of the various Americans acquainted is the main thing the union is interested in now.

Well, Firpo, in the opinion of some of the union's best-posted officials, has done more to get them acquainted than all the Pan-American conference that have been held since the time of James G. Blaine, who gave the get-together movement its start.

Since Firpo's first appearance in this country South Americans know where New York, at least, is. For North Americans, the "wild bull" has put Argentina and Buenos Aires and the River Plate and the pampas on the map.

For all this the Pan-American Union rejoices.

And the next thing, union officials think, is to get the northern and southern peoples interested in one another through still more forms of sport. This can't be done better, they figure, than on the field of sport.

Firpo doubtless has put an end to any North American notion that the South Americans can't give a good account of themselves. Dempsey bent him, to be sure, but Firpo performed creditably, just the same. And if he fails, there's another South American candidate anxious to make the attempt now—Rojas, the Chilean heavyweight.

Even if Firpo was beaten, there are some other South Americans who have had better luck. An Argentine's name is among the very few of those who have swum the English Channel. Argentine players scored a victory over the famous Meadowbrook polo team.

As for racing, Buenos Aires is its home. Horses like Man o' War, Botafogo and Gray Fox won their reputations on the famous Palermo Park track. Not an important city in South America is without its Jockey Club—generally the richest and most exclusive social organizations in their various communities.

Interests in common between the Americas is what the Pan-American Union is hunting for. It looks as if they existed in the realm of sports as perhaps in nothing else.

FORMER NATIONAL LEAGUE UMP NOW A FIGHT REFEREE

CLEVELAND, May 3.—Charles Rigger, big league umpire who retired as a National League arbitrator two years ago, simply couldn't resist the lure of the sport, so-called.

Rigger has just been named as one of the light referees satisfactory to the new Cleveland Boxing Commission.

The professional fight game is to be revived in Cleveland April 23. Pancho Villa, world flyweight champion, is being sought as the big attraction.

Presiding over fistie engagements is no novelty for Rigger, as he has been the third man in many an important bout. Since competent ring referees are scarce, the commission was very glad to appoint Rigger.

The former National League umpire has always figured in the sport game as a player or official. Years ago he was a prominent figure in professional circles in this section.

Defends Self To The Last

COLUMBUS, O., April 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Declaring that "Louie Rossi is giving his life away to satisfy Youngstown, Ohio justice, for killing a man right in his own home in self defense," Louie Rossi, 34, Youngstown, was electrocuted in the Ohio penitentiary this morning at 1:08 for the murder of Nick Ferrari, also of Youngstown. Ferrari was killed with a baseball bat.

Accompanied by his spiritual adviser, a Catholic priest, Rossi entered the death chamber at 1:04. Only one charge of electricity was used.

Rossi was to have been electrocuted February 29, but was given a thirty day stay.

On request of the Italian consul at Cleveland, Rossi was given a mental examination and was found to have the mentality of a child seven and a half years old.

Curtis Claims He Was Framed

COLUMBUS, O., April 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Witnesses for C. C. Curtis and E. E. Curtis, suspended mayor and safety director of Canton, on charges of lax law enforcement continued testimony today in the hearing before Governor Donahy.

Mayor Curtis on the stand yesterday declared civil service was largely responsible for disruption of the Canton police department, and he said "he hoped the time would come soon when there will be no civil service in the police department of any Ohio city."

Because of politics Mayor Curtis said it was practically impossible to obtain dismissal of any member of the Canton force. He said the "biggest mistake I made was being too lenient with subordinate members of the department."

Trouble began, the mayor said, from the time a big still belonging to "Harry-the-Greek" was mailed. He said Ben Clarke, a member of the force, had "tried to frame me." He said he, "was convinced his brother was framed by the Canton underworld."

Mr. Bannon Tells Lions' Club About Hunting Trips to Alaska

An illustrated lecture on Beaver and big game hunting in Alaska, by Mr. Henry H. Bannon, was presented to the Lions' Club, held in the Washington Hotel, with the largest attendance since the organization of the club, more than a month ago.

President Fred Klingman, before calling on the speaker of the evening, called on Dr. William H. Phelps, new pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, and Dr. McCloud of the Mid-West Oxygen Co., who were guests. Both responded with short addresses, and were given real ovations by the Lions. Dr. Phelps, an entertaining and interesting speaker, made friends with every member of the club in the two minutes he was on his feet, and the Lions "asked for more" when the minister had finished.

Mr. Bannon's address was one of the highlights of club history, to date. He told interestingly of his experiences as a hunter, and was given a hearty vote of thanks.

Secretary McClure called attention to the necessity of all Lions having their pictures taken at once, in preparation for Charter night, which will be held May 12th. On this occasion, Lions, their wives and sweethearts, will celebrate the presentation of the club charter.

There is at present no civic or business organization in Russell and both gentlemen were interested in organizing one there. The meeting went on record as favoring the establishment of a Rotary Club at Russell and the matter of organization was turned over to the Ashland, Ky., committee.

Mr. Bannon's address was one of the highlights of club history, to date. He told interestingly of his experiences as a hunter, and was given a hearty vote of thanks.

Secretary McClure called attention to the necessity of all Lions having their pictures taken at once, in preparation for Charter night, which will be held May 12th. On this occasion, Lions, their wives and sweethearts, will celebrate the presentation of the club charter.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES MARK BLESSING OF MERCY HOSPITAL

Rt. Rev. Bishop J. J. Hartley Delivers Inspiring Address; Many Priests in Attendance; Public Inspection Wednesday

Simple and impressive dignity characterized the services for the blessing of the new Mercy hospital this morning by the Right Reverend Bishop James J. Hartley, in the presence of the clergy, hospital committee and their wives, the hospital staff, the Sisters of St. Francis and invited guests. April sunlight flooded in through the southern windows of the little chapel, fell softly on the high white altar among sprays of pink dogwood where lighted tapers gleamed and touched the kneeling figures in the back pews.

Following a brief prayer by the Bishop the procession through building was made by Bishop Hartley, Monsignor O'Neil, Father James H. Cotter and Father F. W. Gloeckner of Ironton, Father Beronick, chaplain of the hospital, Father J. E. McGuirk, Father T. A. Goebel and representatives of the Sisters of St. Francis. After a tour of the building in which each room received the bishop's blessing, the procession returned to the chapel where the Bishop addressed the waiting congregation briefly.

"It is a great joy to be able to come this morning to see the completion of this hospital that is to afford joy and consolation to so many in the years to come," said the Bishop in introduction. "When I was in Rome remembering passing in an old dilapidated building that had fallen into ruin, leaving only the inscription over the door standing, which read in Latin: 'For all those who have been neglected and abandoned by everybody else.' That is the spirit that characterized the Catholic hospital all over the world. Always they have stood for the open door where those who were neglected and abandoned by others might find succor. The arms of the Sisters are always outstretched to welcome all who need their kindly ministrations."

Outlining briefly the history of the hospital movement, the Bishop continued: "In the ancient days of the church always the group of buildings of the episcopate included along with the Bishop's house, the school, college, etc., a hospital, and in these hospitals many of the outcasts of society found welcome. In the fifth century a renowned bishop endowed a hospital, furnished it completely, engaged the staff of physicians and nurses and opened it to the public making only this condition, that every man, whether white or black, bond slave or free, Jew or Gentile, whatever his condition was to be admitted without charge if his need were that great. That same spirit has come down through the ages as characteristic of the hospitals that have grown up under the supervision of the Catholic church."

First Hospital

"The first hospital on this continent, of which we have record," continued the Bishop, "was that built by Cortez in Mexico City. The ancient Spaniard endowed the institution and then consecrated it in 'Gratitude to Almighty God, and in reparation for my many sins.' The next hospital in this country was one founded in Quebec, Canada and is still under the supervision of the Sisters of the Catholic church. In the United States the first hospital was that founded in 1653 on Manhattan Island by a surgeon named Hendrickson to care for the sailors who fell ill on their long voyages. In 1730 the first hospital that was the gift of private generosity was that built by an old sailor in New Orleans and called Charity Hospital. The old sailor invested all his accumulated savings in this work and turned over to the Sisters of the Catholic church. That was the best investment the old sailor ever made."

"To you who have brought this hospital to Portsmouth I want to say that I believe you will find

Fight On Tax Schedules Looms

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—With a fight for a graduated corporation tax in prospect as well as the impending contest over income schedules, the senate hastened today to dispose of some of the other remaining controversial finance committee amendments to the revenue bill. Although an increase from 12 1/2 to 14 per cent in the corporation tax was voted yesterday with the understanding that the capital stock tax would be repealed, Democrats, through Senator Simmons, North Carolina, ranking minority member of the finance committee, served notice they would offer a graduated scale as a substitute for the flat corporation levy. The impending additional contests centered chiefly about automobile and radio taxes, publicity of returns, creation of a board of tax returns and the provision for an added exemption on earned incomes.

Into the attic

FEW youngsters today ever saw a horse-hair sofa. They wouldn't know what to do with a fire taper, carpet stretcher, or coal oil lamp. They couldn't braid rags into a rug, or wind yarn without tangling. But they know the how and why of typewriters, phonographs, telephones, automobiles; what happens when a push of the button gives light, or a kodak's flash fixes their image on paper.

Their education is as modern as the advertisements they see. They have no more use for the lamp and chimney of yesterday than you for the wick and tallow of the day before.

Advertisements induce such progress. They urge wide use that means improvement. They help you lift the out-of-date into the attic—rid you of the water buckets and soap kettles of slavery. They bring late improvements within your reach.

Read the advertisements regularly. Keep alert to the new.

Without advertising, you would never know a product's worth until you had bought it.

SELLING PRESSURE RESUMED AGAINST MANY INDUSTRIALS

Steels, Motors, Textiles and Oils Under Fire; Rails Hold Firm

NEW YORK, April 29.—Speculation on the U. S. Steel Corporation's directors action on the question of an extra dividend was responsible for the resumed selling pressure in many of the industrial stocks today. The closing was irregular.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Reactionary price tendencies prevailed in the opening of today's stock market. Selling pressure was resumed against the steels, motors, textiles and other industrials, initial losses of a point or more being recorded by DuPont, Calumet and Arizona, American Woolen and Yellow Cab. U. S. Steel common opened 1/2 lower. Rails held relatively firm, particularly the Northwestern line.

Trading was rather sluggish in the early dealings, bear traders restricting their commitments because of the uncertainty regarding the action of the U. S. Steel Corporation directors on the question of an extra dividend at their meeting today. U. S. Steel Iron Pipe which was run up sharply before the close yesterday dropped back 2 1/2 while Lima Locomotive, U. S. Rubber first preferred, Gulf States Steel and Wabash preferred "A," yielded a point or more. Foreign exchanges opened steady. General Electric and Reynolds Tobacco "A" also showed independent strength. Yellow Cab extended its loss to 2 1/2 points and Baldwin, Studenbaker, Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron, Cuba Cane preferred, South Porto Rican Sugar, Mack Truck and Stewart-Warner were added to the list of stocks to sell 1 to 2 points. Call money opened at 3 1/2 percent.

CLOSING PRICE OF OHIO STOCK
COLUMBUS, April 29.—Citties Service common 142 1/4; do preferred 73 1/2; Pure Oil 22 1/4.

Wheat Up; Corn Down; Oats Also Decline

CHICAGO, April 29.—With month-end evening up of accounts in progress wheat averaged a little higher in price today during the early dealings. Aside from the current changing over from May delivery to July or from July to May, trade lacked volume. Uncertainties over the outlook as to farm legislation at Washington continued to be the chief factor. Opening prices which ranged from 1/2 decline to a like advance, May 1924 to 1 1/2 July 1924 to 1 1/2, followed by slight general gains.

Persistent selling in small lots had a depressing effect on corn values. After opening unchanged to 1/4 percent lower, May 70 1/2 to 70 3/4, the market underwent a sag all around. The close was firm, 1/4 to 1/2 higher. May 10 1/2 to 10 3/4; July 10 1/2 to 10 3/4.

SAUER GAINED 18 LBS. ON TANLAC TREATMENT

Indianapolis Man Tells Of Recovery From Indigestion, Torpid Liver And Constipation.

"The TANLAC treatment took me off the ragged edge of a bad breakdown and gave me back the strength that I had lost and work a pleasure," is the striking statement of Arthur Sauer, 53 West Pleasant Run Drive, Indianapolis, Indiana.

"About a year ago my stomach went wrong and then nearly everything seemed to go wrong with my health. Indigestion, loss of appetite, restless sleep, pains in the back and chest, headaches, torpid liver, constipation and dizziness worked on me until my nerves gave way and I became pale and listless and only a shadow of my former self."

"Since taking TANLAC I have gained eighteen pounds and my health is just about perfect. I eat everything, sleep like a baby and feel fine. I certainly have good reasons for praising TANLAC."

TANLAC is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.
